

Dead from Heat and Drownings On Week End at Eight Score

Eastern Two-Thirds of Nation, Harassed by Heat, Humidity

By The Associated Press
The weather bureau predicted the beginning of the end today in the nation's most severe heat wave this year but said there was a "joker" in the forecast.

Showers and somewhat cooler weather tonight were predicted for some of the Plains states. The relief was expected to spread slowly Tuesday into Wisconsin, Michigan and late tomorrow into Illinois and Indiana, continuing eastward at snail's pace.

Forecaster G. L. Canaday at Chicago said, however, that the "joker" was that it would warm up again after three or four days of a cooling off process. But he calculated that the humidity which has oppressed millions would be driven away.

Meantime the eastern two-thirds of the nation suffered in damp 90-to-100 heat that produced an ever-mounting death toll. Heat deaths totaled at least 80 and in addition at least 91 persons drowned.

It was 93 in Chicago at 11 a. m. A record-breaking 3,000,000 sprawled on the beaches of metropolitan New York City yesterday. A St. Louis boy, cooling off in a yard sprinkling spray, was electrocuted when he touched a light cord.

The drowning toll by states included Michigan, 24; Wisconsin and Ohio, 9 each; Iowa, 7; Illinois and Kentucky, 6 each; Indiana, 5.

Heat deaths by states included Minnesota, 20; Illinois, 9; Wisconsin, 7; Ohio, 6; Michigan, 5; Iowa, 4; Indiana, 1.

TOLL IN ILLINOIS

By The Associated Press
Fourteen of the 30 persons who died from violent causes in Illinois during the week end were victims of the midwest's heat wave.

Attributed directly to torrid temperatures were 9 heat prostrations and five drownings. Traffic deaths, which usually head the fatality toll, numbered only five, despite highways and streets crowded with countless thousands seeking relief from the scorching weather.

Other fatalities, an Associated Press survey showed today resulted from: shootings, 3 falls, 2; hit by train, 2; stabbing, 1; explosion, 1, and miscellaneous causes, 2. Two Indianapolis residents, Carl Lawrence, 24, and Mrs. Carrie Wilson, 50, were killed yesterday when their automobile struck an abutment east of Alhambra. Two others

Chemical Workers Accept DMB's Plan to Settle Dispute

The A. F. L. chemical workers union notified the Defense Mobilization Board in Washington today that it would accept board recommendations for settlement of its long-standing dispute with the Western Cartridge Company, Alton, Ill.

The dispute had carried a threat of a strike of 550 smokeless powder workers.

The board had set today as the deadline for acceptance or rejection. No answer had been received from the company when the unions acceptance arrived in the mail.

The board's recommendation called for a 5 per cent wage increase—similar to one granted other company employees July 13—and provided that additional increases demanded by the union be submitted to arbitration, along with the question of paid vacations. Any increases arrived at by arbitration would be retroactive to July 15, the date on which mediation ceased. The present minimum is 52 cents an hour, with average hourly wages considerably higher. The union asked a minimum of 78 cents an hour and boasts in some classifications up to 50 per cent of current scales. The board said these demands were higher than appeared justified.

The board also recommended that a "union security" clause be written into the contract providing that all present members of the union remain in good standing as a condition of employment, but not requiring non-unionists to join. Other recommendations were that the company discontinue the practice of negotiating individual contracts with each worker, and inclusion of a seniority clause.

Roger D. Lanham, west coast chairman sitting on the board panel as a representative of industry, concurred in all the recommendations but said as a matter of policy that the board should not ordinarily include "union security" clauses in recommendations, because this "touches upon what is perhaps the most delicate program in the whole field of management-union relations."

Accidents

Chicago, July 28.—(AP)—There's no place like home for accidents.

The National Safety Council reported today in its latest volume on U. S. accident statistics that in 1940:

33,000 persons were killed in home accidents.

140,000 suffered some degree of permanent disability. 4,710,000 suffered some degree of temporary disability.

Statisticians figured poor judgment as the personal factor most frequently involved in the home accidents and disorder, or poor house-keeping, the mechanical factor.

Young Woman Hurt in Unusual Mishap Sunday Afternoon

Patricia Hepfer Suffers Broken Vertebra When Struck By Swimmer

Miss Patricia Ann Hepfer, 523 Depot avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hepfer was the victim of a serious and most unusual accident at the Lowell park beach Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock when hundreds of picnickers were seeking relief from the intense heat. Miss Hepfer was seated on the floating raft and two young men, who were among the many who had climbed onto the raft, began wrestling.

Without warning one of the swimmers was thrown by his companion, and struck Miss Hepfer in the back. She was rendered unconscious by the force of the blow but fortunately did not fall from the raft into the water. Other swimmers attracted to the scene on the raft assisted Life Guard John Mitchell, who removed the unconscious young woman to the bath house in one of the life boats.

Has Fractured Vertebra

She was given first aid at the bath house but when a physician, who was among the thousands of visitors at the park yesterday, examined her, he advised that she be removed to a hospital at once. An ambulance was summoned to the park and the young woman was rushed to the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital. An x-ray examination was reported to have revealed a fractured vertebra of the spine.

The two wrestling swimmers offered no assistance and left the beach very shortly after the accident. Sheriff Gilbert Finch went to the beach and conducted an investigation in which he was successful in learning the names of the two who were responsible for what might have been a fatal accident. The young woman was reported to be resting comfortably at the hospital today.

Boy With Broken Leg Rescued from Chicago Theater Roof by Firemen

Chicago, July 28.—(AP)—The rescue of a 14 year old boy from the roof of a theater building where he had lain for four hours after he had suffered a broken leg, was effected today by firemen in an ingenious rescue act.

Steve Bodner and two other youths had climbed up fire escapes to the sixth floor of the Paradise theater building and 30 feet up a perpendicular ladder to the roof, which is water sprayed to cool the interior of the building. For several minutes they enjoyed themselves sliding down the water-sprayed arched roof but during a slide, Bodner's right leg buckled on a projection and

House's Machinery Geared for Speedy Passage of Tax Bill

All Efforts to Amend Record Measure Will Be Contested

Washington, July 28.—(AP)—Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee forecast today that congress would find it necessary later to impose a general consumption tax and force a larger number of people to pay income taxes.

"We're not at the end of this tax road yet," Doughton told the rules committee while advocating approval of parliamentary procedure which would permit consideration of the $3,529,200,000 tax bill without amendments except those approved by the ways and means group.

After hearing Doughton, the rules committee approved a special parliamentary procedure by which the new tax bill will be brought up tomorrow for three days of general debate. Only amendments proposed by the ways and means committee will be permitted consideration.

May Broaden Base

Doughton's forecast of still heavier taxes was made in response to assertions by both Democrats and Republicans on the rules committee in behalf of a broadcasting of the income tax base. He did not go into details as to the new taxes but said there was little doubt but that another revenue measure would have to be drafted next year because of the continued critical state of world affairs.

Rep. Hallock (R-Ind.) led the demand for a broader tax base, asserting it was extremely desirable to have a greater number of people tax conscious.

Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.) assured the rules group that no phase of the tax problem had received closer study by the ways and means committee than that of broadening the base and reminded the members that at the present time single persons have only $15 and married persons $38 a week that is exempt from taxation.

The bill is scheduled to be brought up tomorrow for three days of debate and despite the tight-laced procedure planned, indications were there would be plenty of verbal fireworks.

To Criticize Spending

In the first place, the 10 Republican members of the ways and means group already have indicated plainly their intention of making the measure a vehicle for fiery criticism of the administration's non-defense spending.

Three Democrats and two of the Republicans also served notice that they would oppose the proposed requirement of joint income tax returns from married couples.

The group denounced the proposal as "not only unsound but definitely unconstitutional."

They contended the proposal,

Five States Would Try Jewel Robber

Chicago, July 28.—(AP)—Authorities of five states sought custody today of George L. Johnson, 40, a paroled convict who, Detective George Tucker said, confessed stealing jewels valued at more than $30,000 in 15 cities.

Johnson, who said he took the loot from homes in which he had obtained work as a butler, was seized here July 26 in a pawn shop while attempting to redeem a diamond ring which he said he had stolen from a St. Louis theater owner.

Tucker said authorities of Minneapolis, Des Moines, Ia., Milwaukee, Wis., Olathe, Kan., and Champaign, Ill., had informed him warrants for Johnson were being forwarded here.

Mrs. O. C. Leiter, of Champaign, Ill., told Tucker over the long distance telephone that she had signed a warrant against Johnson charging him with the theft of silverware, clothing and the family automobile.

Tucker said Johnson was paroled last March 18 from the California state prison at Folsom.

An Assist

Chicago, July 28.—(AP)—Harvey Fiskov's one hand catch of his brother's shirt tail was credited as a life-saving assist.

Climbing to the roof of an adjoining one story shed, Harvey, 11, shouted to his brother, Melvin, 7, to toss down a towel from their third floor apartment.

Melvin complied, but lost his balance and plunged from the window. As his brother's hurtling figure shot past, Harvey caught his fluttering shirt tail. There was a mighty jerk and a rip, and Melvin continued his descent.

A physician, crediting Harvey with breaking the fall, said Melvin suffered only cuts and bruises.

Dutch East Indies Suspends Pact to Permit Japan Oil

Action May Drive Japan to Force in Effort to Get Petroleum

Batavia, Netherlands East Indies, July 28.—(AP)—The agreement of last year whereby Japan was to receive 1,800,000 tons of oil annually from the Netherlands East Indies has been suspended by the Dutch and all monetary and commercial dealings with Japan have been placed on a special permit basis.

The extent of the economic measures was outlined early today at a session of the People's Council of the Dutch colony by H. T. Van Mook, director of economic affairs, who has been the chief economic negotiator with the Japanese.

He said all exports to Japan, Manchoukuo, China and Indo-China henceforth are subject to special permit, all foreign exchange transactions between the East Indies and Japan discontinued for the time being, and Japanese accounts in the N. E. I. frozen.

As a result of these measures monetary and goods traffic with Japan has been frozen—that is, been made entirely dependent on special permits, he said.

Japan's prospective intake of oil from the largely American and British-owned properties here had been stepped up from 494,000 tons a year to the 1,800,000 figure by an agreement announced last Nov. 13.

Japs May Use Force

It was worked out among Dutch colonial officials, the oil companies, Ichiro Kobayashi, representing the Tokyo government, and Tadasharu Mukai, chairman of the vast Mitsui interests of Japan.

(Some observers have held that a sharp need of oil would send Japan against the Dutch East Indies to take it by force if necessary. Japan must import all but 11 per cent of her petroleum and its by products. She has been getting most of the 89 per cent from the United States and the East Indies.)

(The United States has not yet definitely cut off all oil shipments to Japan, but this may come as a corollary to the president's order freezing all Japanese assets in this country. President Roosevelt, outlining past policy toward Japan in an extemporaneous speech last Thursday, said that if the United States had cut off oil shipments Japan "probably would have gone down to the Dutch East Indies a year ago, and you would have had war.")

U. S. CALLED "HOSTILE"

Tokyo, Tuesday, July 29.—(AP)—The foreign office-controlled Japan Times & Advertiser today described the United States as "hostile" and the leader in a grim economic battle against Japan as the Japanese press generally employed sharper terms in attacking Washington's economic measures.

Informed circles, however, said that the action of the Netherlands East Indies in freezing Japanese assets—following the United States' lead—might produce even more far-reaching consequences than the American program.

Japan gets great quantities of oil from the Dutch Indies, and shutting off of that supply, it was said, might bring about a drastic change in the Far Eastern situation.

In Batavia it was asserted that the Japan-Indies agreement whereby Japan was to get 1,800,000 tons of Indies oil annually was suspended.

Japan's privy council, in the presence of Emperor Hirohito, ratified yesterday the Japanese-French accord under which Japan is moving troops, warplanes and warships into southeastern Asia for further occupation of French Indo-China.

Members of the council, according to the authoritative Japanese news agency Domei, further "encouraged the government to be prepared to cope with any

Ogle Man Suicides After Quarrel with Wife Saturday Eve

Paul Heal, 25, Takes Own Life With Rifle at Schubert Farm

(Telegraph Special Service)
Rochelle, July 28.—Paul Heal, 25, took his own life by shooting himself with a .22 calibre rifle at about 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the Paul Schubert farm home in Lynnville township, Ogle county, following a quarrel with his wife, a coroner's jury, impaneled by Dr. J. C. Atkins of Forreston, decided in an inquest conducted at the Unger funeral home here Sunday morning.

It developed at the inquest that last May, Heal, who had come from Madison, Wis., where he had been employed, to assist in the farm work at the George Schubert farm, had gone to Esmond shortly after 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at the conclusion of threshing on a neighboring farm, and had returned home at about 6:00, when he became involved in a quarrel with his wife in the farm yard.

Eluded His Wife

He rushed into the house to an upstairs room, returning with the rifle. His grandmother, Mrs. George Schubert asked him what he intended doing with the gun as he passed her in the house, and his wife attempted to wrest it from him as he passed her in the yard. He eluded her and ran behind the poultry house, the report of a shot a few seconds later, indicating he had accomplished his own destruction. He was dead when others reached him.

Heal was born July 19, 1916 in DeKalb county, the son of William and Mabel Schubert Heal, his mother passing away when he was 11 months old. He grew up in the vicinity of Creston, where he attended school, and on March 23, 1940 he married Miss Marian Lundstrom of Rockford, who survived him together with his grandmother and several uncles and aunts.

Funeral services will be held at the Unger funeral home at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Anderson officiating, and burial will be in the Woodlawn cemetery near Creston.

Indictment Found Against Wesolik

Woodstock, Ill., July 28.—(AP)—The McHenry county grand jury returned an indictment today charging Richard Wesolik, 16-year-old Illinois training school parolee, with the slaying of Mrs. Margaret Jung, 37-year-old farm wife, on July 14.

The indictment was returned before Circuit Judge Ralph Dady. Bludgeoned to death with a heavy wrench, the body of Mrs. Jung was found in the farm milkshed by her husband, Joseph, on his return from Woodstock where he had taken a load of milk. Wesolik, who had been paroled to Jung four months ago, was missing.

Captured two days later at Belleville, Ill., after a state wide search, the thin bespectacled youth readily confessed the slaying, saying he had killed the woman after she had threatened to send him back to the reformatory because he had stayed out all night.

Warnings

"Don't Jaywalk—Cross at Intersections."
"Cross Crossings Cautiously."

These traffic warning signs were painted on sidewalks in the Dixon business district during the early hours Sunday morning and pedestrians were warned to assist in the safety campaign which is being waged in the city. While city ordinances provide penalties for automobile drivers who violate traffic regulations, pedestrians are urged to exercise caution in crossing streets, principally in the business district.

Members of the police department are observing the reaction to the warning signs and it was evident today that many of the jay-walkers were heeding the warnings and making use of the marked crossing zones.

Nazi Blitzkrieg "Washout" Says Red Command

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)
The Russo-German war, which enters its sixth week with the bolsheviks not only holding the line against the hitherto invincible nazi fighting machine but finding strength for counter-attacks, is increasingly a mighty factor in the allied expectations of victory.

Six weeks ago the world in general wasn't inclined to dispute the nazi boast that they would be in Moscow by this time. The tradition was rapidly growing that the German army couldn't be stopped.

Now, however, each day that the Reds hold that heaving, straining line is a golden one for the allies. The Muscovites are bleeding the Hitlerites as Britain couldn't have hoped to do for months to come.

Time is adding rapidly to the vast amount of energy which Hitler is expending in manpower, materials and equipment—a matter of incalculable importance. And it increases the likelihood that rapidly approaching winter will overtake the nazis on the bleak plains of Russia and kill all chances for the quick conquest upon which the fuhrer was banking.

Despatches from Turkey reiterate in greater detail the reported German plan to offer Britain peace as soon as a quick nazi victory has been achieved over Russia. Hitler would make the allies large concessions, providing he was recognized as master of the continent of Europe. But this plan, which probably loomed large in Berlin six weeks ago, now must seem like a dim cloud on the far distant horizon.

Then there is another aspect of the world turmoil which is being greatly influenced by the fierce Russian resistance. That is the Japanese program of expansion. There can be small doubt that the Nipponese will be largely governed in their further moves by the outcome of the great battle now being waged in western Russia.

If the nazis break the Red opposition and surge forward to victory, the Japanese may try to take advantage of the position for further expansion. Should the bolsheviks increase in strength, Tokyo is likely to sit very tight and avoid trouble with Britain and the United States.

The Berlin and Moscow communiques throw little light on the progress of the fighting, and probably aren't calculated to do so. From this we can take it that nothing decisive has happened.

The Russian official spokesman, Vice Foreign Commissar Lozovsky, declares in the graphic language which he has been employing that the "blitzkrieg is a washout," that the Reds are holding their line from the Arctic to the Black sea, and that the nazis are up against another Verdun. The Germans waste few words in claiming that while their drive has been slowed down by heavy resistance and bad weather, their program is proceeding satisfactorily.

The important fact to note in all this is that the German invasion has been retarded and that there apparently has been no vital break through the Red line recently. Beyond that we shall be well advised to wait for further indications before making up our minds what the outcome of this greatest battle of all time is going to be.

One other grim point emerges from this bloody conflict. It is increasingly apparent that this is no ordinary passage at arms, but that a battle of extermination is proceeding.

The nazis began their conquest with the avowed aim of destroying the Red army. And ever since

Claims Today as Contradictory as Previous Ones

(By The Associated Press)

Destruction of three Red Army divisions (about 45,000 troops), including a contingent shifted from the Far East to defend Moscow, was reported by the Germans today, while the Russians declared officially that Adolf Hitler's 37-day-old blitzkrieg was "a washout."

Hitler's high command asserted that the bloody "Battle of Smolensk" on the highway to Moscow was about to end in a German victory, and Berlin military commentators hinted that the center of the nazi invasion forces now may be ready for a direct assault on the soviet capital.

Nazi war dispatches said the Russian Far East division was wiped out in a trap east of Smolensk, where it was crushed under the onslaught of a German tank division.

The Germans quoted prisoners' statements that the Red troops had been moved at least 4,000 miles across Russia's vast hinterlands to bolster the capital's defense. If true, this would indicate a waning of Russian reserve power on the western front.

Different Picture

The Russians gave an entirely different picture, asserting that the conflict had settled down to an old-fashioned siege and that two German divisions were wiped out over the weekend.

A Red Army bulletin indicated that soviet troops were taking the initiative in several sectors of the 2,000-mile battlefield, where the Germans were declared to have run into "another Verdun."

Countering the Russian assertion, Hitler's high command reported that the "Battle of Smolensk," a phase of the German onslaught toward Moscow, was "drawing to a successful conclusion."

The nazi high command said all Russian attempts to prevent annihilation of their trapped Red Armies in the Smolensk sector, 230 miles west of Moscow, had failed. On the north front, the German

Greatest Army in History of Nation Assembles in Dixie

New Orleans, July 28.—(AP)—The vanguard of the greatest armed force ever assembled for one operation in the Americas—equalling in numbers the American troops in the Meuse-Argonne offensive in 1918—came rolling toward Louisiana today for the August-September war maneuvers.

From Camp Blanding, Fla., motorized units have started to bring 12,000 men in 1,853 vehicles to the western Louisiana maneuver area, and 14 train serials will carry 26,000 more.

Heavy troops movements from Camp Shelby, Miss., to the scene of the war games began today, and by September 1 will have stripped the population of the big training base from almost 50,000 to 3,000 men.

Nineteen of the 33 divisions comprising the United States Army will take part in the exercises. Eleven are units of the Third Army, which will be pitted against the Second Army's eight divisions in the final phase of the war games in September after corps maneuvers during August.

500,000 Soldiers Involved

In the Second Army will be a full armored corps, never before massed, the first and second armored divisions. General headquarters units, including air force and parachute troop units, will bring the total number of soldiers involved to 500,000.

Nobody but the high command knows what kind of a "war" will be waged, but the lineup suggests an unprecedented all-out assault by Lt. General Ben Lear's Second Army against the larger Third Army of 303,000 men led by Lt. General Walter Krueger.

General Krueger, arriving here in a transport plane from his headquarters at San Antonio, Tex., said in an interview that the August-September war games "at least will show whether the army can supply and maintain and properly feed a great number of soldiers in a small area."

The Quartermaster Corps has been making huge preparations. Thousands of tons of food and gallons of gasoline are being assembled and bakery companies from six army posts have been set up at Jackson barracks here to turn out 225,000 pounds of bread every 24 hours.

Price Control Legislation Is Ready for Introduction in Congress This Week

Washington, July 28.—(AP)—Speaker Rayburn told his press conference today that price control legislation had been satisfactorily revised by the administration and probably would be introduced this week.

Rayburn said the measure probably would be accompanied by a presidential message and indicated he thought its passage should be expedited by congress.

"We are liable to wake up here some day and find a lot of runaway prices," the speaker declared.

He gave no details of the new measure but said he thought it now was in satisfactory form.

Some weeks ago, it was disclosed that Leon Henderson, price administrator, submitted a bill to Rayburn and other leaders to provide a form of mandatory price and rent control restricted to defense areas.

The difficulty of determining the geographical limitations of that measure constituted a principal objection to it.

Informed officials predicted that the revised measure would give the president broad powers to freeze prices and rents but it was not expected to extend such authority to farm prices and wages.

Women Novelists Face Home Trials

New York, (The Special News Service)—The way of a man with a maid who writes of love and romance for the public prints is not always inevitably the gay and blithe way of this boy who meets the girl in chapter one.

For the maid who writes stories for a living—and the matron who sells scripts—has a career, and a file-case full of ideas that must be gently blown into tales for people to read.

She needs a room of her own—a quiet room, divorced from diapers and burning roasts and friends who drop in to chat.

And she has to be out of town from time to time—seeing publishers or giving lectures or autographing books in strange department stores.

She's likely to be an independent cuss, with ideas of her own—not always calculated to further a man's career.

These musings are prompted, in part, by the recent residence of Hubert Charles (Bob) Winans in the state of Nevada.

Winans is an investment banker. His business takes him to foreign lands. Recently, his work has centered in Brazil, some 3,000 miles from New York City.

His wife was Katherine Brush, who writes those gay, spirit-of-modern-youth stories of life in the U.S.A. Stories like "Young Man of Manhattan".

When Winans had established his residence in Nevada, Miss Brush obtained a divorce, charging cruelty. The suit was handled in Reno by Proxy, because Miss Brush was busy writing on a new book in her New York workshop.

It had been held that the Brush-Winans marriage, had some modernistic touches that they had separate quarters in their two-story duplex apartment; that Winans had agreed to renew his proposal of marriage every three years; and that if she accepted him anew they would take a honeymoon in celebration.

Friends say they had been separated more than a year.

The married life of the girls who make up stories in their heads and write them down on paper shows, as the professors say, an element of instability.

Miss Brush had been divorced once before.

Pearl Buck, the missionary-turned-novelist, and Dorothy Parker, the most-quoted female wit of her time, both have married twice.

Ursula Parrott, who collected royalties on the troubles of "Ex-Wife", married for the fourth time in 1939, breathing a conviction that she had found happiness "more important than any career there is".

Former Dixon Girl Becomes Bride in Iowa

Of much interest in Dixon, where the bride's mother was a substitute teacher on the Dixon high school faculty during the family's residence here, is news of the wedding of Miss Barbara Louise Ramsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ramsey of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, formerly of this city, and Dr. William A. Owens, Jr., of Ames, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Owens of Winona, Minn. Dr. David I. Berger of the Coe college faculty performed the marriage ceremony at 4 p. m. Saturday in Cedar Rapids' Westminster Presbyterian church.

The altar was banked with palms, studded by baskets of white gladioli and asters. White tapers were lighted in seven-branch candelabra at either side.

Marjorie Hungerford Cook, organist, played a recital preceding the ceremony. Miss Jeanne Pidgeon of Des Moines, a sorority sister of the bride, sang Cadman's "At Dawning" and "Because."

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore a floor-length gown of nixon sheer with a square neckline and insets of venetian lace at the waistline, yoke and sleeves. The full skirt, gathered at the waist, extended in a junior train, and her finger-tip veil of illusion net was caught by a crown of tiny gathers and tucks of the same material in halo effect. Her cascade bouquet was of white gladioli with orchids in the center.

Mrs. Eldon B. Potter of Dixon, as matron of honor, was dressed in Vatican purple wisp sheer over taffeta of the same color, with three-quarter sleeves shirred at the cuff, a gathered bodice, square neckline and full skirt.

Miss Jeanne Rowe of Cedar Rapids and Miss Catherine Kidd of Owatonna, Minn., the bridesmaids, wore chartreuse gowns of the same style, and all three attendants wore Juliet caps to match their gowns. Their gladioli bouquets contrasted with their dresses.

Mrs. Ramsey wore black lace with white accessories, and a corsage of deep red roses.

Green and deep purple appointments decorated the church parlors, where a large assemblage of relatives and friends were entertained at a reception, following the ceremony. Mrs. Lester Wilhelm of this city was among the out of town guests attending the wedding and reception.

Dr. and Mrs. Owens left after the reception for Chicago, to board a steamer for a lake cruise. After visiting Mackinac Island, they expect to spend the remainder of the summer at Lake Burnside, near Ely, Minn. For traveling, Mrs. Owens chose powder blue alpaca, with black accessories. At her shoulder, was a spray of orchids.

Dr. and Mrs. Owens will be at home at 321 Ash avenue, Ames, Iowa, Sept. 10.

The bride began an outstanding record of activity when she was a freshman at Cedar Rapids, and joined the Health Council, League of Women Voters and the Young Women's Christian Association. As a sophomore, she directed the Y. Nursery school, was assistant circulation manager of the Iowa Homemaker, and was Tri Delta's rush chairman. At the same time, she participated in intra-mural games, worked on Veishea, and maintained the necessary scholarship average necessary for Mortarboard membership. Last spring, she was elected to the presidency of the Y. W. C. A. and the vice presidency of Tri Delta.

Dr. Owens, a member of the department of psychology faculty at Iowa State, was graduated from Winona State Teachers college, received a master degree at Chicago University, and his bachelor and doctor's degrees at the University of Minnesota.

John Cramer of Cedarville served Mr. Hildebrandt as best man. Ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Harold, of Beloit, Wis. and Albert Turner of Freeport.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Few chose blue sheer with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother was wearing black with white accessories. Gardenias formed their corsage bouquets.

Mrs. Pauline Grant of Polo entertained with a 15-minute organ recital, preceding the ceremony. Her selections included the Liszt "Liebestraum," Bohm's "Calm as the Night," and Provost's "Intermezzo." She also accompanied Mrs. Delbert Schell, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me," and during the ceremony, she played soft strains of "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses."

Pink, blue and yellow appointments decorated the country home of the bride's parents, west of Mount Morris, where a reception was held, following the ceremony. Serving were Mrs. Charles Zumdahl, Miss Ruth Parkins, Miss Rebecca McNutt, Miss Phillis Zumdahl, and Miss Arlene Zumdahl.

When Mr. Hildebrandt and his bride left on a wedding trip through northern Wisconsin, the bride was wearing a black and white ensemble, with a spray of gardenias at her shoulder.

Mrs. Hildebrandt was graduated from Mount Morris high school, and attended Carthage college and Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb. For the past four years, she has been teaching in the rural schools near Mount Morris. The bridegroom, a Freeport Petroleum company.

A New Huey Long on the Horizon?

The full infamy of the Huey Long regime in Louisiana, with all its dangers to democratic government, is only now being realized by most people of the United States.

That is why it is not too early to cast an eye at Gov. Gene Talmadge of Georgia and ask whether he may not be an incipient Long, and whether he, too, may not rise via the Senate from the state to the national scene.

It should be remembered that one of the first acts of Huey Long in Louisiana was to destroy the independence and integrity of the state university and to make it a mere political appendage of his party machine. Governor Talmadge has already done something perilously close to that in "stacking" a refractory university board of regents which refused to comply with his will, and appointing members who would.

Long then launched violent attacks on the newspapers as unfair to his regime, and tried in every way to hamper and finally to penalize them by discriminatory taxes enacted by a "stogie" legislature.

SERIAL STORY

LESSONS IN LOVE

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

Illustrated by George Scarbo.

"I'll get you excitement, if that's what you want," Uncle Hank promised. "One of our men from the west is coming in—Chief Leaping Water."
"Chief Leaping—???" Barbara echoed. She could picture him, in full tribal regalia. This was going to be fun.

CHAPTER I

THE look on Barbara Chase's face was one of utmost displeasure as she curled up on the sofa and lifted the telephone to her ear.

"It's that anemic Lester Burton again," she hissed to her Uncle Hank as she prepared to speak. Hank Chase shook his head. Poor Lester. Poor fish.

"No, Lester . . ." Barbara was saying wearily. "No, I'm busy. Nope, busy Friday, too. No-o-o-o. No, Lester, maybe next week. Yes, that's a good boy. Don't fret, now. Bye."

Barbara put down the phone. She rested an elbow on a knee and cupped her chin in her hand. "Uncle Hank," she intoned, "if I were to use this house as a focal point and then draw a circle with a 100-mile radius, do you think there might be a man somewhere in that circle who had a spark of interest?"

His answer was nothing more than a snort.

Barbara shook her head, and the long blond curls swished about her shoulders.

"When," she mocked, "tell me WHEN are men going to quit talking about the stock market, the tax rate, and the wonderful binges they go on? When is this present crop of so-called eligibles going to crawl from under their night club pallors and reveal a red corpuscle or two?"

She plopped down beside Uncle Hank and poked him in the ribs. "This country's going to pot. Why doesn't somebody do something about the improvement of the breed? I mean men, not horses. neither is your golf game," he advised. "I can't even get some decent golf competition these days."

She folded her arms sullenly. "Superiority . . . bah!"

"Bah! isn't ladylike," Uncle Hank admonished. "But then, mitted."

"And why . . . WHY don't they quit showering me with flowers and silly little trinkets and sell me something in the way of old-fashioned masculinity? Lester Burton—bah!"

"No, I don't. I merely maintain that the man I marry must be able to balance a tea cup with his left hand and drop a 40-foot putt with his right at the same time."

"Must be lots of them like that in New York."

"If there are," she growled, "someone's keeping them in chains in a fourth floor attic. Nope, Uncle Hank, I don't know of any in that 100-mile radius I mentioned, Larry Grover, maybe, but he's more interested in horses than women. I bet I could do better if I went down to your Oklahoma oil fields and dated a couple of drillers."

Hank Chase's head jerked up with interest. "Now, maybe that won't be necessary. Fact of the matter is we're going to have a visitor from down Oklahoma way tomorrow. Forgot to mention it to you. Very forgetful of me, I might add, however, that he possibly is what you're looking for in the way of—well, did you say masculinity?"

"Who?" she asked quickly, suspiciously.

Uncle Hank puffed on his pipe. "Chief Leaping Water."

"Chief Leaping—an INDIAN?"

"Well, kinda," he grinned. "However, I don't think he'll get off the train wearing war paint, and he probably has as many of the so-called social graces as most of the young men you know, but—"

And then for a long minute Uncle Hank stopped. There was a sudden thought that struck him, and he liked the way it kept bouncing back.

"His real name," he continued, "is Dugan Blake. Rather Irish-sounding, but he's mostly Amer-lature. Governor Talmadge has already threatened Atlanta and Macon newspapers with denial of their ordinary news sources at the state capital, and has issued veiled hints that they had better "get right."

It was the newspapers in Louisiana, especially the New Orleans States, which never yielded to the Long oppression, and which were largely instrumental at the end in exposing the shambles he had made of decent government.

The papers of Atlanta and Macon, at which Talmadge has been hitting, are known throughout the country as having integrity, honesty, and courage. Their reputation in their field is a solid one built over a long period of years. When the governor accuses them of consistently misrepresenting facts, and as "willing to penalize Georgia to hit Talmadge," readers outside Georgia reserve the right to wonder what's going on in Georgia.

As to the internal issues on which the Talmadge row hinges, national audiences are not so directly concerned as they are in whether there is any chance that another of the sisterhood of states may be debauched by the same kind of demagoguery and machine spoliation that made Louisiana for several years a clinic of native fascism and threatened to project that leadership on a national scale.

No Use Being Mad at Everyone

Senator "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky is, generally speaking, a sunny and pleasant man who well deserved his nickname. Acrid Senate debate on the draft property bill got even "Happy" Chandler down the other day in an exchange with Senator Wheeler in which reports grew sharp and snappy.

How can one remain in good humor, lamented Chandler afterward, in a world where "everybody's mad at everybody else?"

The answer is, they can't, and that's why so many of us grow jittery in these days of suspense. The only suggestion we can think of is to be good and mad at Hitler and all his henchmen who plunged the world into this era of ill feeling, and to be extra nice and kind to everybody else just to balance it off.

HOLD EVERYTHING

"All right, you're gonna see the mayor, have me kicked off the force, and sue me for false arrest—but in the meantime would you kindly step up and have a seat?"

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited)

Washington, July 28.—While this government is calling loudly for national unity, it is furnishing daily live examples that it has not been able to achieve much within itself.

It may not be crucially important that a cabinet officer accuses a senator of near-treason, and the senator retorts the cabinet officer is too old to do his job. Or that Ickes is loose again and calling names and czaring right and left, even against District of Columbia motorists for emitting too much smoke from their exhaust pipes, paradoxical though that may seem. In an enlightened age, everyone recognizes such things as politics, not necessarily clean or indispensable politics, but relatively unimportant to national defense.

The serious evidence of muddled governmental dissension redoubles when a public break between defense leaders Henderson and Knudsen is followed immediately by such a similar squabble as Ickes is stirring up now with Leiland Olds, chairman of the Federal Power Commission. The issue is whether one or the other is going to get control of the job. There is nothing of the old public versus private power involved. Both are public ownership advocates. Ickes wild, Olds moderate.

As the Ickes advocates tell it, he planned to issue a typical Ickesian blast against the power commission, but the commission learned of it, rushed a report to Roosevelt containing a hastily prepared hedge-podge program. Ickes is not one to let a sharp word go unspoken merely because it is late. So he blasted anyway after the report was out, calling it a hedge-podge.

The Olds people tell it different. This is their story: Olds began a study of the power situation last January when he became convinced a shortage would develop. The head of the OPM power section was doing nothing. Ickes was doing nothing. His own controlled power policy commission was doing nothing, including its counsel, Ben Cohen, who went to London advising Ambassador Winant.

Olds worked out a complete survey of needs, finally concluded it about a week ago. But a week before it was concluded, Ickes heard it, and decided something must be done immediately—under his jurisdiction.

A squad of former Security Exchange Commission attorneys now working for Ickes wanted to make him power coordinator. The word "coordinator" may yet assume a meaning in this defense program equivalent to that similarly coy term "liquidator" developed earlier in both Russia and Germany. They asked Olds for information on shortages and what should be done. Olds, apparently unwise in the ways of the Washington world, sent it all over to them. They feverishly prepared from it, an Ickes plan.

But before this Ickes plan could be bared to the world, Olds rushed his plan to the White House. A new OPM power expert, (who had replaced the one who did nothing) approved the FPC plan and urged FPC to go ahead with it.

This put Olds streaking down the field with the ball toward a touchdown, while Ickes sat on his back, completely blocked out of the play. The only thing he could think of to say was: "hedge-podge."

Ickes is going to say much more than "hedge-podge" or even "fudge," when he learns that Olds not only scored the touchdown, but apparently has kicked the goal.

Olds has been meeting significantly on the sly with Jesse Jones, holder of the RFC money bag. He arranged to get RFC loans from Jones to finance his program. The expansion is to be undertaken by both private power companies with RFC money and by the government directly. Half a billion dollars is supposed to have been promised by Jones, although the first chunk will be smaller.

Unless Ickes figures some way to break this up, he will be the paltry czar of the vast oil industry concentrating at the moment on smoky exhausts and "jerky" drivers (those who start fast from stop lights) in Washington, of whom some 50 or more have already been arrested by the Ickes-controlled park police. The Washington fuel oil committee set up at the behest of Ickes is refusing to authorize arrests and wants to make the program voluntary. The citizens apparently would not mind having their cylinders rebored if Ickes would foot the bill of $50 or 80, or even if he would swap their smoky old cars for one of the new exhaustless limousines in which he rides. That solution of the difficulty has not been officially advanced yet.

Thus progresses unity among officials who are appealing most to the country for national unity.

Chiropractors End Most Successful of Annual Conventions

Over 200 Attend Final Sessions of Meeting Here Sunday

The most successful and largest convention in the history of the Illinois State Chiropractic Association came to a conclusion Sunday afternoon at the Dixon Elks club house where the annual banquet was served at noon. More than 200 delegates were present from Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa and Illinois.

At the opening session at the Elks club Sunday morning, Dr. Marty of Spring Valley called the convention to order. Dr. I. O. Mork of Freeport was the first speaker on the program and he was followed by E. O. Dudley of Rockford, chairman of the Citizens Service committee of Illinois. The theme of his address was "Health Freedom." The speaker heads a totally independent committee pledged to work for the return to the people of their rights of self government. The committee has a membership of half a million members, and the chiropractors who seek equal recognition and opportunity for all systems of healing were highly entertained by the address.

Fried Chicken Dinner

The Elks banquet hall was crowded to its capacity at the noon hour when the annual banquet was served. Mrs. Ida Smith was the cateress and was ably assisted in the preparation of the fried chicken dinner by the following women: Mrs. Harry Milhouse, chairman of the kitchen committee; Mrs. Fred Daligos, Mrs. Lloyd Duffy, Mrs. Harold Stedard, Mrs. Francis Keenan of Dixon and Mrs. Carl Coffman of Polo. The dining room committee consisted of Mrs. Millard Deuth and Mrs. Frank Coskey, co-chairmen; Ruth Kersten of Ashton; Velva Gatz of Polo, Mariette Haenitsch, Irene Woodyatt, H. Katherine Slaats, Mrs. Bernice Bend, Dixon; Charles Drummond, Ashton; Ruth Enman, Oregon; and Alberta Kellen, Amboy.

After the banquet, Dr. S. Chandler Bend, whose untiring efforts made the convention the record success, presented Mayor William V. Slothover, who delivered the address of welcome. Dr. Marty replied for the delegates. Dr. Fred Daidro presided at the dinner. During the solo numbers rendered by Mrs. Antonson, soprano, and the group singing.

Saturday Sessions

Saturday, the convention sessions were held at the beautiful Loveland Community House, the Dixon Chiropractic Crusaders being the hosts to the delegates. The visitors were lavish in their enthusiastic praise of the beautiful building and its location and accommodation for the handling of convention gatherings. President Walter C. Knack of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce welcomed the convention visitors and a program of entertainment followed, featuring a tap dance by Master Richard Dusing and a piano recital by Dr. Daldorf. Miss Caroline Herbst entertained with a ballet dance solo, accompanied by Mrs. Katherine Herbst at the piano.

Sunday morning the delegates gathered at the Lowell park lodges for the open air breakfast. The resolutions committee at the closing session of the convention, which is the second to be held in Dixon in recent years, due to the activity of Dr. Bend, presented the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

Pass Revolution

Extending a vote of thanks to the Dixon Chamber of Commerce and its efficient and able president, Walter C. Knack for the courtesies in handling the convention gathering; to The Dixon Evening Telegraph and staff for the coverage of the convention details; to the trustees of the Loveland Community House and the hostess, Mrs. Latham, for the fine hospitality extended the delegates; to the Dixon lodge, No. 779 B. P. O. Elks, for providing the spacious banquet room for the annual dinner; to Mayor William V. Slothover for his address of Welcome; to President Walter C. Knack of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce for his address of greeting to the delegates Saturday evening; to the Dixon chapter of Chiropractic Crusaders for their hospitality during the convention; to the Dixon park district for providing the perfect playground and park accommodations at Lowell park, and to every citizen of Dixon for their gracious hospitality during the convention's twoday stay in Dixon.

John Lewis Comes Out as Opposed to Waterway Project

Washington, July 28.—(AP)—John L. Lewis came out against the St. Lawrence waterway project today, contending before the house rivers and harbors committee that it eventually would displace as many as 50,000 workers from their jobs.

In his first utterance on a public issue in many months, the president of the United Mine Workers Union also criticized administration fiscal policies, saying that the "unthinking may be misled by propaganda that attempts to convey the notion of our never ending ability to keep up our spending spree."

"But," he added, "the history of the world, the history of this nation, belies such a fallacy. Our federal government is now spending one-fourth of the national income."

Lewis addressed his remarks to the committee which is considering the $285,000,000 seaway proposal. He argued that the project would mean the displacement of coal for the generation of electric power and would penalize the coal industry which the government has sought to stabilize through the Guffey minimum price law.

"What benefits can we hope for," he asked, "if the government joins with us on the one hand to stabilize the (coal) industry, and then immediately sets about to displace coal for the generation of electricity, and builds a waterway as an inducement to foreign coals?"

Chicago Youth Wins Two Tennis Titles in Sunday's Torrid Heat

Chicago, July 28.—(AP)—Gardner Larned, Chicago youngster, had two tennis titles today to show for a hot Sunday afternoon's work.

Larned won the state men's singles championship with a 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 2-6, 6-4 victory over Dave Freeman of Pasadena, Calif., after being only two games from triumph in the third set.

He then teamed with Robert Jake of Milwaukee, to defeat a California twosome, Irving Parker and John Ballack, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, in the junior doubles final. By this time the sun had taken too much out of the youth and he defaulted to Harry Buttimer of San Francisco in the junior singles final. Freeman and John Howard, Pasadena, also defaulted to George Ball and Walter Driver of El Paso, Tex., in the men's doubles final.

Margaret Stiel of River Forest, Ill., won the women's singles title, defeating Helen Shockey of Evanston, Ill., 7-5, 6-3.

Attention Defeats Whirlaway; Their Feud Just Starts

Chicago, July 28.—(AP)—The feud between Whirlaway, the sure thing, and Attention, the unknown, is just in its infancy.

Attention, unheralded entry of Mrs. Parker Corning of Albany, N. Y., startled the country's turf fans with an impressive victory over the great Whirlaway Saturday in the Arlington Classic—favorite event of long shots.

Attention was magnificent in whipping Warren Wright's triple-crown winner with a game stretch drive, but the triumph left Trainer Max Hirsch with a huge assignment for the remainder of the big stakes season.

Both horses are eligible for the Travers Stakes at Saratoga Aug. 16 and at the American Derby at Washington Park here a week later.

Hirsch said after Saturday's race that Attention, when in form, is as fast as Whirlaway and Mrs. Corning's horse proved it Saturday as Whirlaway tried in vain to catch him.

But whether Hirsch's pet can take the measure of the Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont winner again is the big question. If Attention again can beat Whirlaway, then the Classic victory cannot be discounted as a fluke. Hirsch insists the horse had the stuff all the time, but that a hip injury as a juvenile retarded Attention's training and prevented his appearance in the major events of spring and early summer.

Howard Jones Dies Suddenly of Heart Attack Yesterday

Successor to Famous Football Coach is Not Discussed

Los Angeles, July 28.—(AP)—Football Coach Howard Jones died yesterday, leaving leaderless the University of Southern California football machine which he made famous.

A heart attack cut down the 55-year-old Trojan mentor as he was preparing for the start of a new football season Sept. 8. He had been Southern California's coach since 1925, and since 1934 had been earning $15,000 a year.

There was no immediate action regarding a successor. Willis O. Hunter, athletic director, said any appointment would await the return from Washington, D. C., of President Rufus B. Von Klein Smid in mid-August.

Since most coaches have been engaged for the year, however, many informed circles believed Justin M. (Sam) Barry, long Jones' top-ranking assistant, might be given the responsibility of directing the team this fall, at least.

Jones' coaching record of 29 seasons listed 194 victories, 65 defeats and 21 ties. At Southern California his teams won 121 games, lost 36 and tied 13. Twenty of his players were acclaimed All-America, 11 of them at U. S. C.

In Five Bowl Games Five Jones-coached Trojan teams represented the Pacific coast in the Rose Bowl game. All were victorious.

His teams four times broke long victory strings of great Notre Dame eleven, most sensationally in 1931 when the Trojans, trailing 14 to 0, rallied in the final quarter to win 16 to 14.

Surviving Jones are his widow, Jane, a son, Clark, and a daughter, Carolyn; his brothers, Tad, former Yale coach, of New Haven, Conn.; and Tom and Clarence, Middletown, Ohio, and a sister, Mrs. Gerald Sawyer, Lima, Ohio.

Jones was divorced in Denver from Mrs. Leah Clark Jones in 1926, and married Mrs. Jane Dean Ridley, sister of the late William Dean, former Army All-America halfback against whom Jones had played at Yale.

Funeral arrangements awaited word from the relatives.

Dodgers Ready to Take Fall or Leap Over Big Precipice

Crisis May Come This Week When They Go to Cardinal Home

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers are wobbling on the edge of a precipice—and everybody is wondering whether they will get pushed off, or just fall over of their own accord.

They dropped another doubleheader to the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, 4-3 and 8-0, to fall two full games behind the St. Louis Cardinals in the struggle for the National League pennant.

A crowd of 40,903 that overflowed behind ropes all around the Forbes Field outfield encouraged the Pirates.

The crises for Brooklyn may come later this week when the Dodgers invade St. Louis for their last series of their western swing.

The Cardinals were not especially impressive yesterday in dividing a doubleheader with the Boston Braves. They lost the first 12-10, and took the second, 8-6. Boston bunched four runs in the first inning and the same number in the ninth of the first game, and in between Phil Masi hit two home runs and Frank Demaree one. Howard Krist got credit for his eighth victory without defeat in the afterpiece, although he had to be rescued by Harry Gumbert.

Cincinnati split a pair with the Phillies in a "Paul Derringer Day" program. Derringer won the opener, 2-0 with five-hit pitching, but the Reds made only four hits themselves and both runs were scored on a wild pitch by Boom Boom Beck, who hasn't captured a verdict this year. John Podgajny then held the Reds to four hits in the nightcap and triumphed 8-1. Bucky Walters was charged with the defeat.

The Chicago Cubs stopped the New York Giants in a single tilt, 9-12. Vern Olsen and Jake Moody held the Terrymen to seven hits.

In the American League, the New York Yankees finally were beaten after winning nine in a row. They took the first half of a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 9-5, but lost the second 7-3. Lefty Thornton Lee. This still left them 11½ games in front of the Cleveland Indians.

52,304 Watch Joe

The big Sunday crowd of 52,304 sweltering fans showed most concern about the hitting of Joe DiMaggio. He connected for a towering triple in the opener and hit his 23rd home, a double and a single in the second.

He now has hit safely in 56 of his last 67 games, 10 in a row since his record streak was stopped at 56.

Cleveland salvaged a 4-0 decision out of its Boston series with Joe Heving holding the Red Sox to six hits and getting timely hitting support.

The big noise in the junior circuit, however, continued to come from Philadelphia, where the Athletics swept a double bill from the Detroit Tigers, 8-1 and 7-10, to advance into an almost exact tie with the White Sox for fourth place. Jack Knott and Les McCrabb each pitched seven-hit ball and neither yielded a walk during a great pitching show backed by timely hitting.

The A's have won seven out of their past eight encounters.

Washington advanced out of the cellar at the expense of the St. Louis Browns, who the Senators trimmed twice, 4-3 and 5-3. Sid Hudson permitted only two hits until the ninth inning of the first game. In the nightcap Dutch Leonard produced a steady seven-hit job.

Endurance

Tampa, Fla., July 28.—(AP)—Ken Grable, Tampa golfer, played a 36-hole match in the finals of the city four-ball tournament at the Forest Hills course, the match ending at 3:30 p. m. yesterday.

Then he sped nine miles to the Temple Terrace links designed to raise about $300,000,000, in effect revived the old common-law rule under which a wife did not have complete recognition as a separate person.

The committee majority report, issued Saturday, held that division of income between husband and wife as a tax-saving device "has no equitable basis."

JOHN DOE GETS FIGURES

Washington, July 28—(AP)—Joe Doe added up his Federal tax bill today, and found it probably was going to be tripled.

Mr. Doe is an ordinary taxpayer-earning citizen. He makes $3,000 a year, has a wife and a child. May-be your budget is far different from his, but his may give an idea of what's in store for you.

He figured that counting such things as the gasoline tax he would pay Uncle Sam, directly and indirectly, $42.10 in an average year under present rates.

Then he looked at the new schedules proposed by the House Ways and Means committee and calculated they would raise the bill to $129.21.

(Tax increases will not become effective until House and Senate have acted on the committee proposals, but best indications were that those or similarly high rates would eventually be enacted.)

Our ordinary taxpayer figured his income tax first. He still would get a $2,000 "head of family" exemption and a $400 credit for the youngster, but the pending bill would assess a 5 per cent surtax on him. That would raise his income tax from $5.30 paid this year to $48.40 to be paid next March.

Then he discovered new taxes on a lot of things he was planning to buy.

Lot of New Taxes

That new fur-trimmed coat for the missus, expected to cost $100, will be taxed 10 per cent of retail price, or $10. Other new taxes he figured according to the prices he expected to pay included: 50 cents on a new toaster; $2.50 on a camera; $1 for speeding goods; $1 for a new traveling bag; $5 on a musical instrument for junior; 50 cents on soft drinks 300 nickel bottles; and $5 on jewelry. Except for soft drinks, which are to be taxed 1-6 of a cent per ordinary bottle, these taxes are figured at 10 per cent of manufacturers' price.

Some regular items in his budget also may be taxed heavier. For instance, he ordinarily buys half a dozen packs of playing cards a year, the tax on which would rise from 66 to 78 cents. The three gallons of liquor he buys an annum for himself and friends will cost $12 in taxes instead of $9. A set of tires and tubes for his car will include $2.40 in taxes instead of $1.15. That new refrigerator he wants to buy will carry a tax of $10 instead of $5.50. Because the committee plans to start the amusement tax on tickets costing more than 9 cents instead of over 20 cents, Mr. Doe figured this bill would jump from $3.64 to $4.68.

A use tax on his car would cost $5 more, the proposed tax on telephone bills would nick him $1.20, and a tax on railroad tickets for the family vacation would be another $2.50.

YACUABLE LAND

The Fen district is probably England's most valuable agricultural land. Areas suitable for market gardening there produce as much as $500 an acre.

GROWTH OF U. S.

In 1810, the third United States census showed a population of 7,239,881, an increase of 36.4 per cent over the 1800 census figure, whenever one is offered, and must register for work at the Illinois State Employment office for his home community. In Ogle county, jobless workers received $118,817, in Whiteside, $295,520, and Bureau county, $291,712.

situation which may arise in the East Asia co-prosperity sphere." Domei said this exhortation, looking toward the need for still further action in the southwestern Pacific, was voted by the council's investigation committee which recommended to the whole council favorable action on the pact.

For "Joint Defense" Japanese call the agreement one for "joint defense of the French colony." Japan's new bases there are expected to be in the southern part, chiefly Saigon and Camdanh Bay, bringing Japanese forces hundreds of miles nearer Britain's stronghold of Singapore and the rich Netherlands East Indies.

Japan has sufficient human and material resources, says her new finance minister, Masatsune Ogura, to proceed with her plans for a greater East Asia order despite economic pressure by the United States and Great Britain.

Ogura, an industrialist called "the Knudsen of Japan," told the Japanese "elasticity" in enforcement of the American-British action "had been surprised beforehand."

"Furthermore," he predicted, "the reciprocal measures taken by Britain and the United States eventually will prove painful to the two countries so long as Japan's economic resources remain sound and strong."

One big phase of Japan's greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere program blew up during the week end. Reuters, British news agency, indicated today in reporting from Batavia that the Netherlands East Indies was clamping control on foreign exchange transactions with Japan.

United States citizens, faced with Japan's retaliatory measures freezing their funds, learned yesterday from the finance ministry that "elasticity" in enforcement would be permitted in "light of actual American application of the assets-freezing decree against Japan in that country."

Washington followed Japan's lead in freezing United States and British assets, and the Japanese government announced it had extended the freezing order to Canadian assets.

the opening of this terrible combat there has been every indication that the Germans meant exactly what they said—they were out to exterminate the bolshevik forces.

The nazis have been expending great energy on encircling movements calculated to wipe out sections of the Red army. That the loss of life has been mountainous there can be little doubt.

However, as the bolsheviks have recovered from the first fierce blows of the surprise attack, they have accepted this gage of war to the death and have been adopting the Hitlerites' own tactics. The Reds themselves now are encircling units of nazis infantry with tanks and they destroying them with the assistance of war planes.

Only time can tell what the harvest will be.

Will of Late Paul McKenna Probated

The will of the late Paul McKenna, well known Palmyra township farmer, who passed away June 15 of this year, was admitted to probate by Judge Grover Gehant in Lee County court today. The will is dated June 4, 1941 and Thomas F. O'Neill of Rochelle is named executor.

The inventory lists personal property of the value of $10,000 and real estate valued at $13,000. After making provision for the payment of just debts against the estate the instrument bequeaths the sum of $1,000 to St. Patrick's Catholic church of this city for masses for the deceased. A second bequest of $1,000 is set aside to the executor, to be used in providing perpetual care for the graves of the deceased's parents, five sisters and two brothers all of whom are buried in Ireland and for masses in their respective parishes. The sum of $500 is set aside for the erection of a suitable marker at the head of the grave of the deceased. A $100 bequest is made to Earl Hutton.

The will provides that the remainder of the estate be divided into eight equal parts to each of the two daughters of a deceased sister Bridget Dempsey; three children of a deceased brother, Patrick, and the three daughters of a deceased brother, John.

Judge Gehant today ordered letters of administration issued to Ruth S. Mackin in the estate of the late Mrs. Mary Emma Seyfarth of this city, whose death occurred, July 15, 1939. The report of the estate lists real estate valued at $3,500.

Nazi Blitzkrieg—

news agency, DNB, said advancing nazi columns had lunged within 45 miles of Leningrad, Russia's second biggest city.

Nazi military leaders also claimed the annihilation of two Russian divisions near Mogilev, at the southern base of the Smolensk salient, with the capture of 25,000 Red army troops, 61 cannon, 80 anti-tank guns and 750 vehicles.

It was apparently in this same area, around Mogilev, that the soviets reported the smashing of two German divisions in a violent two-day battle.

"At the end of the second day's fighting, our troops assumed the offensive," a Red army bulletin said.

"Our tanks annihilated remnants of the enemy batteries and brave infantrymen hurled themselves against units of the German infantry division. Tanks going at full speed crushed and machine-gunned the fascist soldiers at point-blank range. . . .

"According to preliminary reports, 4,000 German officers and soldiers found their graves on the field of battle. Our stretcher-bearers picked up about 3,000 wounded. A large number of prisoners were taken."

Illinois' Maligned Oil Conservation Act Becomes Law

Springfield, Ill., July 28—(AP)—Illinois' much-maligned oil and gas conservation act, scheduled to become law tomorrow without the signature of Governor Green, was defended today as "a constructive step toward reasonable regulation" by Clarence T. Smith of Flora, this state's representative on the inter-state oil compact commission.

The Illinois measure was termed "a joke" by Federal Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes at his press conference in Washington last week. Ickes said the bill should have been entitled "a bill to encourage a waste of the resources and mineral wealth of Illinois."

The measure likewise has been termed "ineffectual" by State Senator John J. Parish (D-Centralia) who said the senate committee on oil and gas conservation, in drifting the bill, failed to set an oil-gas ratio for production in this state, thereby leaving undetermined by law what may be considered "waste" of underground gas pressure.

Smith, recently named by Ickes to an advisory committee on oil production in connection with the Federal coordination program, said that, while the measure confined its injunctions to general prohibitions against "underground waste," "surface waste," and regulations providing for spacing wells, one to a ten-acre tract in the same horizon, it would probably be the means of improving production methods.

NorthWestern Orders 2,000 New Box Cars

Chicago, July 28—(AP)—R. L. Williams, chief executive officer of the Chicago & NorthWestern Railway, reported today that contracts for construction of more than 2,000 box cars and ore cars at a total cost exceeding $5,000,000 have been placed by the road.

American Car & Foundry Co., Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Co., General American Transportation Co. and Bethlehem Steel Co. will share in the order. About 500 box cars will be purchased by the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway. The remainder will be placed in service on the Chicago & NorthWestern.

Berve Thinks GOP May Capture House Control

Baraboo, Wis., July 28—(AP)—Ben L. Berve, Illinois State Republican chairman, believes that the GOP will capture enough additional seats in the next election to obtain control of the House of Representatives.

Berve, along with nine other midwestern state chairmen here for the party's Wisconsin off-year convention, made the prediction to National Committee Chairman Rep. Joseph W. Martin at a caucus yesterday.

The party heads predicted the expected gains on the theory that voters were dissatisfied with President Roosevelt on both foreign and domestic issues.

JOINS SPOUSE IN DEATH

Washington, July 28—(AP)—Funeral service were held here today for Mrs. Carrie Urban, 63, former principal of the El Paso, Ill., high school and prominent in central Illinois as a lecturer and writer. Mrs. Urban, who was the wife of Dr. H. B. Urban, died Friday night.

$2,000,000 Train Makes First Run to San Francisco

The new $2,000,000 17-car streamliner, City of San Francisco, passed through Dixon Saturday evening on its maiden trip to the west coast, on a schedule of 39 hours. The train, owned jointly by the NorthWestern, Union Pacific, and Southern Pacific railroads, supplants the Forty-Niner, which has operated on a 50-hour schedule.

Next Sunday the NorthWestern and Union Pacific will place, in service a second new streamliner, City of Los Angeles, to replace one of the same name. Then there will be two trains named City of Los Angeles and two named City of San Francisco running between Chicago and the Pacific coast cities.

The trains, built by the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, are powered by Electro-Motive corporation Diesel-electric locomotives.

Liquid Coal-Oil Fuel Is Perfected

City College, Pa., July 28—(AP)—A new method of making liquid coal, by which coal is dissolved more completely than ever before has been reported at Pennsylvania State College.

The new fluid, when 40 per cent of it is mixed with oil, makes a hotter fire than either coal or oil alone.

The process was discovered by Dr. Walter Fuchs, professor of fuel technology. A U. S. patent has been assigned by him to the Pennsylvania Research Corporation, an affiliate of the college.

The liquid coal-oil fuel promises to increase the cruising range of ships. Although heat from coal generally is cheaper than from oil it is possible to carry more of the liquid fuel on shipboard because it permits better use of bunker space. The coal-oil mixture can be stored under a water seal, thus reducing fire risks, and in event of fire, extinguishing by water is possible.

To make the liquid, bituminous coal is treated with acids. These extract what chemists sometime call the coal substance, which is a complex mixture of hundreds of chemicals. The extraction gets rid of mineral matter and ash. In final form the coal substance is dissolved in furfural, an inexpensive chemical available from agriculture wastes such as oat hulls, corn cobs, and bran.

Other commercial possibilities are use of the liquid coal in making resins and plastics. Dr. Fuchs has an idea that the liquid may be used to cheapen the now somewhat expensive methods of making gasoline from coal. This possibility lies in the hydrogenation process which adds hydrogen to coal, under very high pressures and great heat. High pressures are expensive. Low pressures appear possible with the liquid coal.

King of Hawaii-in-Manhattan Tells of Life in His Island

New York, July 26—(The Special News Service)—"Can I go to Hawaii and sit in the sun and fish in the surf and live on $20 a month for the rest of my life?" That's the question thousands of veterans of subway crushes and commuting trains have asked of Ray Kinney, half-Hawaiian, half-Irish band leader, in the five years he has been serenading the public with steel guitars and Polynesian rhythms at the Hawaiian room of the Hotel Lexington.

They come in to watch his truly Polynesian maids dance hulas that speak of love and romance amid the trade winds and remain to ask Kinney over to the table for the economic low-down on the fair islands from which he comes.

"It hurts me to have to disillusion them," declares large kindly Kinney, "but it takes as much money to live in Hawaii today as it does any other place in United States territory."

While every Anglo-Saxon seems to inhabit a South Sea island in his dreams, there are about 200 part-Hawaiians living around Manhattan island, Kinney says.

Kinney himself is an engaging product of the so-called "Melting Pot of the Pacific". His father, who was 72 years old when Ray was born, was an Irishman who came to Hawaii as a seaman, married a Hawaiian girl and never left.

Kinney was brought up in a big house in a palm grove near the beach at Waikiki and one day when he was about thirteen a malihini (visitor from the mainland) stopped and asked him for some of the guavas which grew there.

Lured from Paradise
When this malihini departed he gave Ray his card and said that if he should ever come to Salt Lake City he must look him up.

The Irish half of Kinney lured him away from the Paradise of the Pacific in 1917 when he was 15 years old and he bought a ticket to Chicago, without taking into consideration the fact that the train stopped over an hour at Ogden, Utah.

Kinney liked Utah and politely addressed a stranger, asking him if Ogden had a good high school. He also displayed the card from one George Ship of Salt Lake City and the stranger informed him that this city happened to be a very short distance away and strongly advised the young Hawaiian to look up his one friend on the North American continent without delay.

Being Polynesian and therefore certain that all people are gracious and that they always mean what they say, Kinney called up Ship and gravely informed him that he was the little boy who had picked guavas for him. Ship received him with a big aloha and helped him get a job in a hotel and register for the school year.

Kinney was a smash hit with his classmates. "Since you come from Honolulu," they said, "of course you sing and play," and they invited him to entertain at an assembly.

That was the first time Kinney had ever been on a stage but naturally he could play and sing and he remained in Salt Lake City for seven years, getting the education he desired and making his living with his ukulele.

Since that time Kinney has played eight years at the Royal

Hopkins Assures Britons Patrol Will Be Success

London, July 28—(AP)—The British people had the assurances of Harry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's lend-lease coordinator, today that American and British ships in the North Atlantic "are patrolling on parallel lanes with only one object in view—to guard the world's lifeline."

Hopkins' statement was made in a broadcast address last night in which he also pledged all possible American aid—"and immediately"—to soviet Russia, in the war against Germany, and to China.

"President Roosevelt, speaking for the people of the United States, is rendering more than lip service," he declared.

"Even now as I speak sleek grey destroyers flying the American flag are plunging their bows into the waters of the North Atlantic."

"Once upon a time this mighty ocean separated us. Now it joins us."

Germany Between Camps

Hopkins pictured Germany as caught between two hostile camps supplied by American far industries. He asserted the United States program of turning out bombers for Britain is "far advanced and Hitler will not be able to move his factories far enough to the east to escape their devastating power of destruction."

The presidential emissary, who said he was here to find out exactly what Britain needed for her war effort, added:

"I have found out that there

The money was given to 29,457 employees in cases involving violations of the minimum wage and overtime provision of the law and represented a total of more than double the amount for the previous half year.

O'Malley said the payments by states were Illinois, $628,499; Indiana, $185,895, and Wisconsin, $174,199. For the fiscal year ended June 30, back wage payments in the region aggregated $1,586,061.
